

Dr. Jonas Buchholz

Research Fellow, DFG project "Temple Networks in Early Modern South India"
Heidelberg University
South Asia Institute
Department of Cultural and Religious History of South Asia
Voßstraße 2, Building 4130
69115 Heidelberg, Germany
E-mail: jonas.buchholz@sai.uni-heidelberg.de

Curriculum Vitae

Positions

- since 09/2019 Research associate (Wissenschaftlicher Mitarbeiter), Department of Cultural and Religious Studies of South Asia, South Asia Institute, Heidelberg University. Co-PI of the DFG project "Temple Networks in Early Modern South India" (with Prof. Dr. Ute Hüsken).
- 10/2017–07/2018 Visiting lecturer, Department of Indian and Tibetan Studies, University of Hamburg.
- 10/2014–02/2015 Visiting lecturer, Center for Modern Indian Studies (CeMIS), University of Göttingen.
- 03/2014–08/2019 Research associate (Wissenschaftlicher Mitarbeiter), ERC project "Going From Hand to Hand: Networks of Intellectual Exchange in the Tamil Learned Traditions" (NETamil), University of Hamburg.
- 04/2012–07/2013 Visiting lecturer, Department of Social and Cultural Anthropology, University of Tübingen.

Studies and Qualifications

- 06/2013–04/2018 PhD in Indology, University of Hamburg (grade magna cum laude). Supervisor: Prof. Eva Wilden. Thesis title: "Tṛṇaimālai Nūrraimpatu. Critical Edition and Annotated Translation."
- 10/2006–02/2012 M.A. (Magister Artium) in Classical Indology, Modern Indology and Semitic Studies (grade 1,0), University of Heidelberg. Thesis title: "C. N. Annadurai und das Rāmāyaṇa."